

University Rooms (for an authentic 'Oxford' experience):

There are over 40 University Colleges in the city. The most cost-effective alternative to staying at St John's College is to stay at one of the other colleges located nearby. The nearest colleges to the festival are neighbours Balliol, Trinity, Keble or Wadham – all of which are lovely and would offer an authentic Oxford experience. If you don't mind walking around the city there are also plenty of alternatives also. To book a room at another college visit the University Rooms website at:

<https://www.universityrooms.com/en-GB/city/oxford/home/>

Travelodge (located on the outskirts of the city):

There are two Travelodge hotels either side of Oxford which come with car parking. Both of these options are conveniently located by the regular Park and Ride service which will shuttle you in to the city every 15-20 minutes. We recommend to avoid parking anywhere near the city centre as the city is old and parking is extremely limited and very expensive!

<https://www.travelodge.co.uk/hotels/60/Oxford-Peartree-hotel>

<https://www.travelodge.co.uk/hotels/599/Oxford-Abingdon-Road-hotel>

For those on a budget:

For those looking for a more budget-friendly option, there are not that many options aside from the University Rooms and Travelodge options. One other option to consider is the Easy Hotel (located in a quieter location on the city outskirts – you will probably want to bus down the road to the venue unless you don't mind taking a 30-40 minute stroll):

<https://www.easyhotel.com/hotels/united-kingdom/oxford/oxford>

Elsewhere in the city – boutique and luxury options:

There are a number of boutique hotels located close to the venue. If money is no object and you would like to treat yourself – here are some hotels to consider: <https://www.booking.com/city/gb/oxford.html>

The nearest is the world famous Randolph hotel (as featured in many Inspector Morse episodes), but there are also plenty of other lovely alternatives such as The Old Bank or The Old Parsonage (conveniently located just down the road from the festival venue). More recently a new hotel called The Store has just opened down the road which offers lovely roof-top views – but this is on the luxury side. You can even stay in Oxford's old prison (Malmaison).

